

Broken

When we were lost, when we were wandering astray
Trapped without hope in the mire of our shame
That's when You laid Your life down to bring us near to You
That's when You opened Your arms to love us with the truth
You love us with the truth

You have broken down the walls
That held us back from knowing You O Lord
Now love will be our song to You
You have broken off these chains
That bound us to a life of sin O Lord
So we live a life of praise to you O God

How can we hold this love so great that You have poured into our hearts
How can we contain the riches of Your overflowing life
Because You've forgiven us, now we can forgive too
And now that You live within us You're making all things new You're making all things new

You have broken down the walls
That held us back from knowing You O Lord
Now love will be our song to You
You have broken off these chains
That bound us to a life of sin O Lord
So we live a life of praise to you O God

*Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah, love will be our song
Hallelujah, Hallelujah, Hallelujah, we live a life of praise*
